

Steven Zicherman, CFA, MBA

Vice President, Research, Director, Odlum Brown Limited

Steven Zicherman joined Odlum Brown in May 2014 and provides analytical coverage for the technology and health care sectors. In addition, Steven works closely with Chief Investment Officer Murray Leith to establish and communicate our investment strategy, identify and manage risks, support our Research and Advisory team members, monitor and develop model portfolios, and build the breadth and depth of Odlum Brown's investment offerings.

Prior to joining Odlum Brown, Steven was a portfolio manager at a major global financial institution, where he focused on Canadian equities. Steven has also worked for a Canadian financial institution's technology venture fund, evaluating businesses for the fund's portfolio, and as a research analyst for a major European bank.

Steven has a Bachelor of Arts degree in statistics from the University of Western Ontario, an MBA from Dalhousie University and is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charterholder.
